

Looking Into the Immigration Crystal Ball: Critical Topics for 2009 and 2010

Part of the Global Business Connections series

Tuesday, June 16
12:00-1:30pm

Frost Brown Todd
Aegon Tower, 32nd Floor
400 West Market Street
Louisville, KY 40202

Frost Brown Todd
Lexington Financial
Center, 28th Floor
250 West Main Street
Lexington, Kentucky 40507

$10 KWTC members
$20 nonmembers
(Lunch provided)

TO REGISTER,
PLEASE CONTACT:

Marie Davis
859-258-3139
marie.davis@kwtc.org

Sponsored by:

Presented in partnership with Greater Louisville Inc.

Please join us for an informative session on the sweeping and potential changes that are upcoming in the area of immigration reform and compliance.

Our speakers will address issues such as the new I-9 form and its requirements, the requirements for federal contractors to enroll in the federal E-Verify program and the inherent changes required to their compliance programs, and the continued efforts of states to require their constituent employers to enroll in E-Verify.

We will address the new Labor Condition Application Form, the new Labor Certification Form and an anticipated emphasis by the Department of Labor on employer audits going forward.

Finally, we will discuss the much debated comprehensive immigration reform and strategies for employer's to utilize in this economy, both their responsibilities when laying off or furloughing employees and strategies for hiring and retaining critical employees.

SPEAKERS:

◆ Matt Gunn, Immigration Practice Group, Frost Brown Todd

Matthew P. Gunn has practiced for more than nine years in the Immigration Group in the firm's Louisville and Cincinnati offices. He represents clients in a wide array of business immigration matters with particular emphasis on all forms of Nonimmigrant and Immigrant visas for professionals and assisting employers in the preparation and execution of employment eligibility verification and compliance programs.

◆ Dan Owens, Immigration & Nationality Law, Frost Brown Todd

Dan L. Owens has an extensive twenty-nine year background in the area of Immigration and Nationality Law. He has practiced extensively both in Immigration and Naturalization Service offices throughout the U.S., and before a number of U.S. Consular posts overseas, representing the interests of both individuals and U.S. businesses and universities which employ foreign nationals.